

The Community's Role in Opioid and Adverse Drug Events

Wednesday, March 28, 2018

10:00 a.m. PST • 1:00 a.m. MST • 12:00 p.m. CST • 1:00 p.m. EST

Every day, more than 90 Americans die after overdosing on opioids. The misuse of and addiction to opioids is an ongoing and rapidly evolving public health crisis that is affecting our entire country and local communities. During this webinar, Kate LaFollette, RN and Program Specialist at Telligen will discuss the community's role in opioids and adverse drug events. Join us for this timely webinar to learn ways your organization can use data to develop an action plan based in quality improvement.

Webinar Objectives:

- Describe the OIG (Office of Inspector General) report on Adverse Events in Skilled Nursing Facilities and its findings
- Review available data and statistics to understand the scope of the issues
- Use shared information to develop an action plan and begin improvements

Target Audience:

This presentation is directed to all healthcare providers concerned with the opioid epidemic and more specifically for those in the long-term care setting.

Presenter:

Kate LaFollette, RN, Program Specialist

Kate received her diploma from Iowa Methodist School of Nursing. During her 24 years as a nurse, she has worked in skilled care, adult med/surg, clinic setting and as a director of quality. Her work with Telligen QIN-QIO has been focused on improving care transitions to and from all settings, community coalition building, and supporting QAPI efforts in Long Term Care. She is a Master Trainer for TeamSTEPS.
